DESIGN TALKS

Multi-Family Housing Trends

September 4, 2014

The presentation will cover the trends affecting the present boom in multi-family housing development in Columbus, and the impacts of these developments on overall urban development patterns, local economies, and resident lifestyles. In particular, we will examine nascent trends that distinguish multi-family housing today from that of twenty years ago.

The Center for Architecture & Design
50 West Town Street, Suite 110
Columbus, OH 43215
12:00 - 1:00 PM

Free for all to attend. No registration necessary.

LEVEQUE TOWER TOUR
Sunday, September 21, 2014

Once the fifth tallest building in the world, the LeVeque Tower stands at the heart of downtown Columbus. After many years, multiple renovations, a few owners and name changes, the LeVeque Tower is being revitalized for today's marketplace. The iconic building is undergoing massive changes to both its interior - including the creation of new public spaces such an enhanced lobby, luxury apartments and a boutique hotel - and its exterior facade and streetscape.

Join us for an up close and personal look at the historic LeVeque Tower and learn about this much admired architectural gem in our city. Event is free and open to the public; however, registration is required. Email Jordan Iseler at jiseler@aiacolumbus.org to register.

Time: 2pm - 4pm

Location: 50 West Broad Street
Columbus, OH 43215

INSIGHT FOR ARCHITECTS

New Benefit for AIA Members!

AIA and Reed Construction Data are pleased to announce a new AIA member benefit. Insight for Architects is an instant upgrade for your market intelligence, allowing architects to locate prospective pre-bid projects and clients and make valuable industry-specific network connections. Reed tracks nearly a half-million projects across the United States and Canada, and applies tested analyses to cultivate information, reports, and leads that provide architects with valuable knowledge to grow their firms.

This new way of connecting architects to business opportunities was first showcased at the 2014 AIA National Convention in Chicago.

Access this benefit Here with your AIA log-in.

RUSH CREEK VILLAGE EXHIBIT

Neighborhood in Harmony with Nature
August 21 through October 26, 2014

Rush Creek was conceived by Dick and Martha Wakefield, who were interested in building a community based on Frank Lloyd Wright's organic principles. The community designed by gifted designer Theodore VanFossen, is well known nationally and is unique in style and function. It is the only community of its kind in the world.

Location: McConnell Arts Center
Main Gallery

Date: August 21-October 26, 2014

AROUND THE CHAPTER
AIA COLUMBUS FEATURED IN ARTICLE
AIA Columbus and the Center for Architecture and Design were featured in an article on the AIA website about how adaptively reused buildings tell the story of what design can do. Check out the article to see more examples of architecture centers across the country.

AROUND THE AIA
HOW DID AN ARCHITECT CHANGE YOUR LIFE?
Please assist us with a quick exercise to collect stories about the impact Architects have made in a person's life. The intent is not for you to answer the question (unless you have a family member who changed your life by being an Architect) but rather for you to forward the survey link to your family members, friends, clients and public officials. AIA OHIO PAC 5K CHALLENGE
Participating in a 5k (or longer) event? Send a "selfie" or photo of you at the race wearing your racing bib by September 12, 2014 and Michael Schuster will make a $10 donation to the Ohio AIA PAC, up to $2,500. His challenge is not only be sustainable in your practices, but to also be sustainable in your health and lifestyle. Email your photo, name, and race information to Michael Schuster.

BECOME AN ADVISOR FOR BSA EXPLORING
Exploring is based on a unique and dynamic relationship between youth and the organizations in their communities. The program is based on teaching the many aspects of design and students get a lot of hands-on experience. They have tours of construction sites as well as significant buildings nearby. The advisors often get involved to satisfy community service requirements of IDP. If you are interested in getting involved in the program, contact Abbie Faust. To learn more, follow this link.

REGISTRATION FOR 2014 AIA OHIO CONVENTION IS OPEN
The registration for the 2014 AIA Ohio Convention is now open. This year's schedule is full of great opportunities. With new educational programming, great keynotes, social events, networking opportunities and maybe a few new twists, we are ready for you to experience "A Future Practice". The Convention promises to bring together some of Ohio's most talented architects and designers to experience feature presentations and keynote speakers from across the country. "A Future Practice" will be held from September 18-20, 2014. More...

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR - POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT
The Columbus Neighborhood Design Center seeks an Executive Director to lead this dynamic and growing non-profit serving various urban neighborhoods with design and planning services. Principally funded by the City of Columbus, the NDC seeks opportunities to broaden its funding base and to provide comparable low cost design services to communities and non-profits. Its labor pool is comprised principally of university students in architecture, landscape architecture and planning. The NDC facilitates community-based dialog, generates responsive design and planning concepts, and immerses student interns in the development of solutions that are both realistic and visionary.
For additional information on the position and instructions to apply, please follow this link. Also be sure to visit the AIA Columbus Job Board for additional opportunities.
