CITY SKETCH CRAWL
Discover Columbus One Sketch at a Time
Saturday, October 11, 2014

New in 2014, the City Sketch Crawl invites sketchers - from beginners to pros - to "Discover Columbus one sketch at a time." Sketchers will gather at The Center this Saturday, head out under the leadership of two prominent Columbus plein air artists, Michael Guinane and Fred Fochman, draw together for an afternoon on location, and return late in the afternoon to share results and refreshments. Resulting sketches will be exhibited at The Center later this Fall. Sketchbooks are provided.

AROUND THE AIA
AIA ADVOCACY ACTION CENTER
With the 2014 elections one month away, the AIA wants to ensure that all architects take part in the political process. Your AIA Advocacy Action Center gives you the tools you need when you go to the polls this fall, including:

- Your voter registration application
- Your legislators’ views on current issues
- Opportunities to attend meetings with new legislators post-election

AIA member participation in the political and lawmaking processes is critical to advancing policies that help architects get to work designing better buildings and communities. Exercise your constitutional right and make sure you are registered to vote today!

#ARCHSELFIE CHALLENGE
AIA challenges you to the #ArchSelfie Challenge! Take and post 10 "architecture selfies" with the hashtag #ArchSelfie by October 15th. Be sure to tag @AIANational and @AIAColumbus.

AIA NATIONAL COMMITTEE CALL FOR NOMINATIONS
AIA Columbus members are encouraged to participate in the national committee process for 2015. With the changes in governance approved at the national convention in June, AIA is likely restructuring many of its committees. Although we cannot guarantee all committees will exist in their current form due to being a year of transition, this is an opportunity to be involved at the national level.

The list below are several opportunities for appointment:
- AIA/AGC Joint Committee
- ArchiPAC Steering Committee
- Codes and Standards Committee
- Continuing Education Committee
- Disaster Assistance Committee
- Diversity Council
- National Ethics Council (must be an Architect member, per the Institute Bylaws)

With the formation of the new Strategic Council, there will likely be additional committees, task forces, work groups, etc., needed to inform discussion.

If you are interested in national committee service, please email Gwen Berlelamp with a letter of interest and your subject matter area(s) of expertise. AIA leadership will review all submissions and work to find a mutually beneficial assignment. Nominations are due by Friday, October 24th. Appointments have varied terms but will be effective.

AROUND THE PROFESSION

KSA PORTFOLIO REVIEW
Call for Volunteers!
Kay Bea Jones, professor at Knowlton School of Architecture, is organizing a portfolio review for Junior Year students. ACHIEVING GREATER DESIGN CONTROL THROUGH OFF-SITE CUSTOMFABRICATION

paid Advertising

Learn how evolving processes allow design and construction to be integrated to create better and smarter buildings by taking this on-line Continuing Education course for 1.0 HSW LU. After reading this article, you will be able to:

1. Compare and contrast traditional sequential design and construction processes with multiple, concurrent, pre-fabrication construction processes.
2. Identify and recognize the emerging trends of integrated project delivery, prefabrication, and modularization that are evident in building design and construction.
3. Assess the functional contributions of custom fabricated interior walls as they contribute to green and sustainable design.
4. Investigate the innovative design opportunities to create buildings that are flexible in use and sustainable by nature using custom fabricated interior walls.
