

BUILDING TOUR NOMINATION

Whether for interesting concepts, new construction components, or overall fantastic design, for members who are still relatively new to the profession or members who are just curious, every building is a great learning tool.

Please consider nominating a project currently under construction (or will be in 2009) in our chapter area. Tours will be free, and open to all members. We will encourage members to bring a colleague who may otherwise not get to a construction site, as a guest. AIA and CES units are available for participants of each tour.
