APRIL CHAPTER MEETING POST-SUSTAINABILITY: New Directions in Ecological Urban Design for the Near Future Tuesday, April 15, 2014

Case studies, projects, and outreach efforts that aim to illuminate the environmental possibilities of New York City will be presented and will inspire solutions in areas like it around the world. Mitchell Joachim, Assoc. AIA of Terreform ONE will unpack the working methods of a unique laboratory for scientists, artists, architects, students, and individuals of many backgrounds to explore and advance the larger framework of socio-ecological design. This program is brought to us by the Committee on the Environment. 1.0 HSW LU
